1. INTRODUCTION

The Promotion of Access to Information Act (PAIA), Act 2 of 2000 (the Act) came into effect on 9 March 2001, which recognises the importance of access to information for an open, democratic, transparent society. The Act gives effect to section 32 of the Bill of Rights of the Constitution, which states:

Access to information

32  (1) Everyone has the right of access to:
   (a) any information held by the state; and
   (b) any information that is held by another person and that is required for the exercise of any rights.

(2) National legislation must be enacted to give effect to this right, and may provide for reasonable measures to alleviate the administrative and financial burden on the state.

The NATIONAL EMPOWERMENT FUND would like to encourage a culture of transparency and accountability by providing information that is required for the exercise or protection of rights and to promote a society which has effective access to information.

2. HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION GUIDE ON HOW TO USE THE ACT

NOTE: The manual does not replace the Act and must be read in conjunction with the Act and Regulations.

It is the responsibility of the South African Human Rights Commission to compile a guide, in an easily comprehensible form and manner, as required by a person who wishes to exercise any right contemplated in the Act.

This guide is made available in all the official languages by the South African Human Rights Commission.

The Deputy Information Officer will notify the requester in writing of the deposit payable. Should the request for access be refused the Deputy Information Officer must refund/repay the deposit to the requester.

The prescribed fees are summarised in accordance with Part II of the Government Notice (R187) published in the Government Gazette.

Refer to Annexure C for fees payable.
8. REMEDIES AVAILABLE AGAINST DECISIONS OF THE INFORMATION OFFICER
